About the Artist:

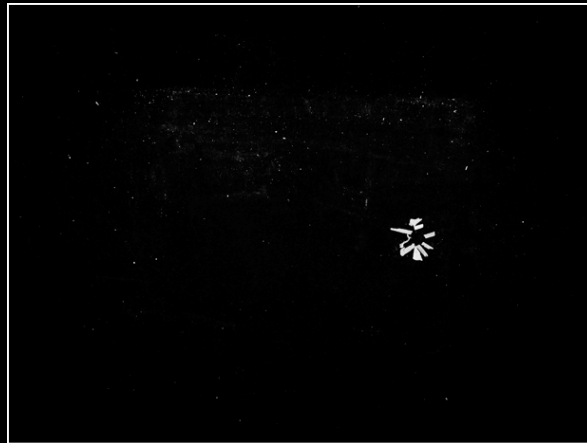

Meredith Miller earned an MFA in Photography from Yale School of Art, where she won the Blair Dickinson Memorial Prize. Her photographs are in the collections of the Danforth Museum of Art and the Yale University Art Gallery. She works as a photographer at Yale Beinecke Rare Book Library and teaches at Southern Connecticut State University.

About the Work:

In her position at the Beinecke Library, Miller started documenting the bits of paper remaining on the bed of the copystand after she photographed books and other items, beginning a new series of work called Revenants: The Memories of Books. She is also photographing two other ongoing series – portraits of mothers and daughters and interiors of rooms.
